Man Arrested While Carrying Dynamite Will Be Given Hearing To-Day.

Hearing To-Day.

Pittsburgh, December 28.—George Bridges, arrested early this week while carrying seventy-two sticks of dynamite and fuses in a suitcase, will receive a preliminary hearing at Monessen, Pa., to-morrow, Although an investigation has been instituted by the Federal authorities and local police, with a view of ascertaining whether there is any connection with the nation-wide dynamite conspiracy, it is said to-night that little of value has been learned.

Arrested after carrying the dangerous suitcase around the non-union mill town of Monessen, Bridges would say only that it had been given him by a stranger. Later, however, he led the authorities to believe that others were connected with the case, and promised to make startling revelations. Finally he refused to talk about the matter, and the police are still groping in the dark.

Bridges will be tried to-morrow on a charge of larceny made by the officials of the Henderson Coal Company, who allege the dynamite was stolen from their concern.

Efforts to discover who hid a large quantity of the explosive in a lumber yard at Rochester, Pa., which was found yesterday, have been futile.
